KlickerKlackerBrzz meets Boom

SONIC TREAT have their homebase in Berlin and are committed to the classic triphop and downtempo from Bristol with their sound.

The band works in the tradition of Portishead, Massive Attack and Tricky, and more recent acts of the genre, such as Trent Reznor's project How To Destroy Angels.

SONIC TREAT synchronizes the berlin_urban_speed with decelerated, pulsating beats and dismantles the synthetic, digital vibration of the metropolis into its individual components.

All this in the club atmosphere of the legendary Quasimodo in Berlin as well, as on the LOTT_OpenAir_Festival, on which the band takes more than 10,000 visitors on a densely atmospheric downtempo_trip.
